Welcome from the Program Chairs

Linda A. Treiber and Donald P. Woolley

Welcome to the 70th Annual Meeting of the Southern Sociological Society. We can't think of a better place to explore this year's theme, Sociology with a Southern Face, than iconic Atlanta, GA-the poster city for the New South. We hope you will enjoy this year's formal program as well as informal opportunities for socializing and networking. We know that many deals have been sealed at the Southern: job offers tendered, paper and book ideas conceived and professional alliances made. Just as important are the life long friendships forged and sustained at our annual meetings. We hope that you will benefit from this conference on a number of levels.

We wish to thank the many people-some, very close to us and others, relative strangers-for their support and assistance in the production of this year's program. First, we thank the SSS members: this program is only made possible through membership participation. We received nearly 600 submissions. Thanks again. We were very fortunate to have an excellent and helpful Program Committee to organize this abundance. Special thanks to Astrid Gatling, Rita Keating and Stan Paskoff of the Terry Sanford Institute of Public Policy at Duke University for technical assistance. We also wish to thank Martin Levin and other members of the Executive, Local Arrangements and Exhibits Coordination Committees.

Finally, we wish to thank our SSS President, Dr. Ron Wimberley, who has long been an inspiration to us both. Ron is the quintessential Southern Gentleman: the sort of person who embodies kindness, compassion, high moral standards and scholarship. His splendid manners and superior interpersonal skills are admired by the many students and colleagues he has mentored over the years. Because of Dr. Ron Wimberley, we are not only better sociologists, but we are also better people. Thanks, Dr. Wimberley, for showing us the ropes.
