

The Sociology Department at the University of Memphis invites applications for a tenure track faculty position to be filled at the Assistant Professor rank. Employment begins August 2018. Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Sociology no later than August 2018. Areas of specialization are open, but the ability to teach core sociology courses in social theory or contribute to departmental expertise in social inequality will be considered a plus.

Applications must be made on-line at <https://workforum.memphis.edu/>. Please upload a letter of application which includes teaching interests and research plans, a curriculum vita, publications or samples of written work (up to a maximum of 3 items), evidence of teaching effectiveness, and three professional references. Screening will begin November 15, 2017 and may continue until the position is filled. The successful candidate will join an exciting and growing department in a dynamic urban university. The University of Memphis is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. Applications from women and minorities are strongly encouraged.