

The Department of Sociology at Vanderbilt is recruiting tenure-track Assistant and tenured Associate/Full professors with specialties in health and medicine, beginning Fall 2009. With funding from the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation and in collaboration with the Center for Health Policy at Meharry Medical College, the department seeks to fill three positions over the next two years. Applicants should submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, examples of recent scholarship, information on teaching effectiveness, and three letters of reference. The search will continue until these positions are filled.

The Search Committee will begin reviewing applications early in the Fall 2009 semester. Vanderbilt is an Equal Opportunity-Affirmative Action Employer and scholars of color are especially encouraged to apply. Send all materials to:

Search Committee Chair
Department of Sociology
2301 Vanderbilt Place
VU Station B Box 351811
Nashville, TN 37235-1811.

Information about the department, the College of Arts & Science, and Vanderbilt University may be found at <http://www.vanderbilt.edu/sociology>.

Placed on SSS Joblink and Listserv 9-28-09
www.southernsociologicalsociety.org